"I am me, and sometimes I pride myself in the fact that I am totally different than any other ding-a-ling in this world. I'm not super-special, but I've learned to take what I have and work from there. Sometimes I look in the mirror and think, 'Oh, I'd look so much better if my father would let me grow my hair long or if I weren't so young looking.' But other times when I look in the mirror I look beyond what's there and imagine myself as a real hard-guy or a Romeo with girls hanging all over me, or I just see myself as a beach bum with cut offs and barefoot. But really, I'm pretty conservative."

"I've got my own set of friends; and they accept me for what I am, along with my own beliefs in religion, drugs and life. As the beer ad says: 'One run through life—that's all you get.' And I intend to live it right; I'm going to be free, independent. Nobody's going to tell me what to do or how to do it."

"PHS—that's my school. Do I say it with pride? Well, sometimes. We've got a jungle hall, and that makes us unique.

We've got an Indian drum major and one of the few hallways that comes complete with buckets. But it's the inner activities of the school that I can take or leave. Some kids don't feel that way.

They enjoy classes and can kid with the teachers as if they were people.

Sometimes I think they're strange, but sometimes I envy them having all those meetings and looking so important. Of course some of them carry it to extremes—like drama freaks, and all those sports, publications and music nuts. They would live here if they could. But in the end they might have something to show for it.

What do I have to show?"

"After graduation, then what? A job? College? Now comes the hard part. I mean this decision I've got to make for myself.

No book or teacher can tell me the answer. And other questions keep bombarding me. What do I think about draft amnesty, or the 18-year old's drinking; and what does the American flag mean to me? Now that I've registered to vote, who am I going to vote for?

And how will I know when the answer's right? I don't even know who I am. And once I do get out in the 'big wide world', I am no longer an 'I' . . . I'm a 'we'.

Teenagers this and kids that. All of a sudden we're one big glob, no longer individuals—just one big glob that really needs to know . . . Where do we fit in?"

that allowed all to share the satisfaction of applause.

RIGHT The only two octars in the marole play "The Zoo Story," John Walker and Don Gattschling scan over their lines and receive final approval before going on stage.

BELOW In a simple, musical play done with few props, Scott Milach gives Brenda Bennington a rose over a brick wall built purposely by their fathers so they would fall in love.

ABOVE When all his other earthly qualities have forsaken him, Dan Gottschling finds that it is Pam Riley, his Good Deeds, that will be with him at his reckoning before God.

LEFT As important as the cast are the crews working backstage. Mr. Killian, technical director for "The Fantasticks," makes up Miguel Pous for his role as an old actor.

RIGHT Senior Narbert Martinez tries to convince senior John Walker, Omar, that he really is a relative of Haji and has inherited the right to beg on his doorstep.

ABOVE One of Jawan's bandits, senior Bill Parnell, threatens Haji, senior Narbert Martinez, to force him to take the curse off of Jawan so that he may find his son again.

RIGHT Haji cleverly avoids answering questions that Jawan's bandits are asking him by bribing them with money obtained from supposedly taking the curse off of Jawan.

BELOW Helping her father to sell his poetry, senior Jenny Stamper, Marsinah, [joins her father, Haji the Beggar, in singing "Rhymes Have I," to the townspeople in the street.

BOTTOM Freshman Mike Miller, Jawan, pleads to junior Ken Kelly, the Wazir, for his life after charges of being a bandit and a robber were brought against him.

Homecoming queen nominee, Kevin "Hot Lips" Hoke and his escort Debi Lawson await the student body's decision as to who will receive the prize of a pie in the face.

Jane Kelly, queen, and her court, Cheryl Arvidson, Nancy Bain, Debi Lawson, and Julie VonProyen were presented of the 1971 victory dance along with Mr. Football, Ted Horper.

FAR RIGHT Fergie Jenkins lends a helping hand to a future pro, after giving him a few pointers on how to shoot a basket during a brief time-out at the Cubs game.

BELOW Major Malcolm Stewart cuts the first piece of cake commemorating the 196th Anniversary of the Marine Corps at the Junior ROTC Military Ball.

FAR RIGHT "Oh Happy Days" was performed by Denise, female singer of the Spurlows, during a convocation presented to the student body. The Spurlows also presented a concert the following night.

ABOVE RIGHT Catering to approximately 390 persons for the after prom dinner, the Serbian Sisters served a meal consisting of roast chicken, beef, sausage and sauerkraut.

CENTER Hypnotized by after prom entertainer Dr. Petersen, Scott Milach and Wayne Hoyer take special precautions so that the baby doll will not wet again.

LEFT Created to fit the theme, "Windmills of your Mind," the 12 ft. windmill located in the center of the room seemed to be a nice hide-away for Jim Hatala and Diane Alvarada.

3 hours of drawn-out practice prepared Seniors for June 4

Graduation, a ceremonial event made up of traditions

Valedictorian—Steve Glova,
Salutatorian—Barry Brachna,
Baccalaureate speaker—Gary Werner, allows minor changes in the stiff ceremony
everyone wearing red robes, girls carrying white carnations,
four persons distributing diplomas,
to make June 4 not just another day for 408 seniors.

ABOVE While practicing for the commencement ceremony, graduation tickets were substituted for diplomas as the seniors filed past. The rehearsal lasted three hours.

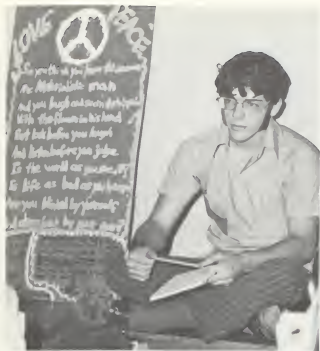

RIGHT Stopping a moment before joining the procession, Greg Noelting and Kothi O'Guin share a funny experience or sentimental thought, typical reactions at graduation time.

RIGHT Although the temperature wasn't as high as in past years, seniors still donned their robes with as little clothing underneath as possible. The ceremony lasted an hour and fifteen minutes and included three speeches, three choral selections and the presentation of diplomas to 408 seniors. Flashbulbs sparked from every direction as friends and family watched the annual event from crowded bleachers.

"School used to be a dull, dreary routine. Classes were either all right or not so hot, and nobody really cared. Then kids started sticking up for their rights and started asking for things they wanted to make school a place that was not just a building—more things like student government elections. So we got rid of the dress code, and 16 teachers came fresh out of college bringing us a lot of new methods and ideas. And although Portage remained a school that was too little to hold all its students and its ceilings still leaked, some people started getting something out of their classes. Of course, some still slept, but the ones who wanted to explore new ideas usually did. And in place of people rushing out to the busses when the last bell rang, we started joining school clubs that became a part of us and won't let us forget them. You see, I see it this way . . .

you gotta go to school, but once you get there learning is a privilege and involvement is a personal choice. Does school mean the same to you as it does to me?"

PARTICIPANTS

CENTER Demonstrating the predictability of the trajectory of objects is junior Karen Kane in her fifth hour physics class. Physics is not required but it is a favorite class among many.

"It always amazes me how we enter the locker room or we pass each other in the hall, and our personalities all seem so different. None of us really see things the same way. But once we hit the basketball court, the football field, the wrestling mat, or whatever it is, we all become a team. Really . . . all of a sudden a dozen different personalities become one single unit that represents Portage. But we athletes are not the only ones who can be and are part of the sports program. There is a place for everyone, whether you are a marching Indian, one of the new boy cheerleaders, an enthusiastic member of Pep Club who helps paint signs and teepees, an intramural player, or in GAA . . . but some still complain because they say only the athletes rate. Is my part the same as yours?"

Indians Duneland co-champs: Sabo clinches state honors

Varsity gridders led by Coach Les Klein pounded out an impressive 7-2-1 record tying Chesterton for the Duneland Conference crown.

Because of an injury against East Gary, quarterback Jeff Antilla was sidelined for the remainder of the season. Sophomore Kelvin Riley, taking over against fifth ranked Valparaiso, drove the Big Red Machine for 348 yards, causing a 26-0 upset over the Vikings.

After Valpo, the Indians grabbed a victory over Hobart, placing PHS in first place with Chesterton for the Duneland Conference trophy. Both PHS and Chesterton crossed the goal line in the second quarter and extra point attempts tied the score at 7-7. In fourth quarter action, the Trojans took control of the ball and charged down field into Indian territory. With only seconds to play, junior Rick Sabo intercepted a pass, ending the game at a 7-7 tie.

Ending the ten-game season, the Tribe accumulated 217 points and held their opponents to only 85. Averaging 5.7 yards per carry in 139 carries, senior Ted Harper led the Tribe in yards gained on the sod. Sabo led the charge in the air with 459 yards and 19 receptions. Harper and senior Tom Taylor grabbed leading spots in TD's with 13 and 5, respectively.

Senior Bernard Sarnowski led the Indians in tackles with 28 solos. Junior Paul Burch and Sabo followed with 26. Linebackers Dave Coons and Chris Knutsen took 21 each. Coons also made 74 assists, highest for the Tribe, while Knutsen trailed with 62. Burch accumulated 53 assists. Sarnowski and Coons sacked their opponents seven times each for minus yardage.

In the backfield, defensive end Sabo picked off 10 passes, leading the interception category. Sabo and Harper were named to the All-Lake Porter County team. Sabo was also selected to honorable mention for the state team.

Harriers take fourth in state; finish dual season undefeated

Besides ending with a 13-0 undefeated dual meet season, the first ever for PHS, the Portage cindermen brought home titles from four invitational, the Duneland Conference, and sectionals, while placing second in regionals and fourth in state.

Among the 16 teams participating in the state meet, PHS finished with 164 points. Only second year state champs of Southport and North-western Howard and Griffith placed ahead of Portage. The Indians cross-country team was the only team in any athletic sport to ever represent Portage in a state meet.

With seniors Al Vaught, Doug Pauley, and Jim Brown finishing in the first 20, Portage placed second in regionals with 77 points, 30 behind first placed Griffith. During sectionals, the Tribe showed great potential by taking the first sectional crown in PHS' history with a new record of 22 points. The old record was sent by Hobart 17 years ago.

Leading the harriers in the Duneland Conference meet were Brown and Pauley capturing third and fourth places, respectively. The Indians as a team racked up 28 points with Michigan City Rogers taking a far second with 69.

Traveling to Indianapolis, the Indians grabbed another first at the Patriot Invitational. Running against undefeated teams such as Elkhart, Fort Wayne Elmhurst, and Worthington, Ohio, the PHS harriers finished with their first five runners in the top 16.

Adding even more to the record books, PHS took the Hobart and LaPorte Invitionals for the first time, after winning the new Prairie Invitational for the second year in a row.

Netmen capture conference title, sectional crown

Varsity racketmen led by first year coach Robert Wilson and Duneland Conference champs Jon Tetrick, Ken Jongsma, and Jerry Matthews guided Portage to its first sectional title in PHS history and a 7-5 record.

Accumulating 27 points the netmen earned the title of sectional co-champs along with Andean. Senior Jon Tetrick downed competition from River Forest and Lew Wallace. He then lost going into the next round against Bill Shiledler from Valparaiso. In doubles competition juniors Ken Jongsma and Jerry Matthews teamed up for the sectional doubles title, the first ever for Portage. Junior Terry Richardson and sophomore Tim Kelly also contributed two victories before losing a close match to Chesterton.

In the Duneland Conference meet Tetrick defeated opponents from Michigan City Rogers and Chesterton before capturing the singles title for the second year in a row. Jongsma and Matthews ran over opponents from Valpo and Michigan City Rogers before defeating Richardson and Kelly, taking the doubles crown. The team marked up 33 points, while the nearest to PHS was Michigan City Rogers with 14.

Lettermen this year were Tetrick, Jongsma, Matthews, Richardson, Kelly, Keith Heck, Colin MacKenzie, Kendall Bradford, and Gary Mueller.

BELOW Disgusted with the results of the game, Coach Morrie Goodnight returns to the bench with a glum look. Despite their errors Portage remained out in front to win.

Varsity Cagers grab sectionals; Cahillane MVP

After winning their second straight sectional title and only the third ever, the Big Red cagers pushed on to the regional defeating third-ranked South Bend St. Joseph's for Portage's second regional win in history and a 13-12 season record.

This was to be a year of rebuilding after losing the starting five the year before. The Tribe won the big opener against rival Valpo but dropped ten of the next 13 starts, including the holiday tourney opener against host Huntington. Returning that evening, Portage battled Muncie North in a consolation match for third place. After a tie at the end, the two teams continued on into an overtime, then another; and finally Portage pulled it through in the third overtime.

The turning point came late in January when the Indians put it all together, winning five of the last six regular season games.

Going into sectionals, Portage downed favored Chesterton in the opener and came face to face with highly respected Valpo, who defeated No. 4 Roosevelt. With the Indians running a tight man-to-man defense, Valpo never managed to come closer than five points to the lead as Portage led by 12 points at the final buzzer. Forty points decided the winner when the Indians went up against the Senators of Washington Township in the championship game of the sectional.

Seniors Jeff Antillo and Mark Cahillane, along with junior Rick Sobo, led the Tribe to the South Bend regional as representatives of the All-Sectional team from Chesterton.

The previous year No. 5 South Bend Adams was victimized by the Portage roundballers; and this year the Big Red Machine, entering the regional as underdogs, repeated the action by dropping South Bend St. Joe from the remaining 32 teams in the IHSAA tourney. Come regional finals, Michigan City Elston proved worthy of their No. 1 ranking as the Tribe fell short of City 24 points at the end of the game.

Both Cahillane and Sobo left the Notre Dame Convocation Center and Arena with the All-Regional team honors. Along with his other honors, Cahillane was also selected MVP by his teammates.

JV, Freshmen both finish with winning season

With Scott DeVries leading the team in total points and rebounds, the reserve basketball team finished the 1971-72 season with a 12-8 record. Both freshman teams also finished with winning seasons.

A close second to DeVries in scoring was junior Tim Buerger, whose 143 points fell two short of DeVries while his .454 shooting average was the highest on the team.

The frosh "A" and "B" teams ended the season with 13-4 and 8-3 records, respectively. Cortie Wilson led the "A" team with a total of 204 points in 15 games for an average of 12 points per game. The "B" team was led by Greg Sobkowski with a total of 76 points in eight games. The frosh won the Thomas Jefferson Tourney and took second in the Westchester Tourney.

The freshmen were coached by Bruce Lindner and Jim Samuel, who returned to Portage this year after graduating in 1966.

Matmen capture first sectional; conclude season with one loss

Hosting their first holiday wrestling tourney, PHS grapplers emerged on top with 100 points and concluded the season with a 9-1 dual meet record, the best since 1969. The Indians also won their first sectional qualifying five wrestlers for the regionals.

Juniors Jeff Scheeringa, Steve Cook, Ed Keith and Jerry Swindle captured first place in the sectional while junior Tom Schmidt took second. Advancing to regionals, Keith and Swindle grabbed second place, with Scheeringa the only other Portage wrestler placing in the finals with fourth, enabling the Indians to place fourth in the tourney.

Scheeringa and Swindle both took top honors in the holiday tourney as three others took second place putting the Indians on top. Sprouting 9-1 individual records for the season were Scheeringa and Swindle along with Phil Campbell. Portage matmen placed third at both the Indianapolis Washington Tourney and the Duneland Conference meet.

Defeating Crown Point in the second meet of the year 48-5, Coach Bruce Sheriff marked up his 100th career win and now stands with an impressive 107-37-4 record.

The grapplers turned out 402 team points, averaging over 36 points per meet for the season and allowed only 168 points to their opponents, averaging out to less than 16 points per meet. Swindle led the team in points with 47 in ten meets winning seven of them by pins. Scheeringa followed with 42 points and only two less pins.

Of the sixteen letter winners only five will be leaving the team due to graduation.

Tankmen take conference; break nine school records

Breaking nine school records and finishing first in the Duneland Conference for the first time, highlighted the 1971-72 swimming team season, which ended with a record of eight wins and six losses.

Dave Rea broke the record in both the 200 yard freestyle and 400 yard freestyle three times each, and finally lowered them to a record time of 2:02.0 in the 200 and 4:23.2 in the 400. Greg Knoll also broke a record three times in the 200 individual medley with a final time of 2:24.0, while the team of John Dixon, Mike Uhl, Stu Smith, and Dave Rea tied the record in the 200 yard medley relay set back in 1970 with a time of 1:57.2.

The swimming team voted Rea as the Most Valuable Player. Two juniors, Rea and Knoll, placed first and second, respectively, with the most team points on the team.

Batmen finish Duneland 7-1; tie Chesterton for conference

Under the guidance of Coach Larry Cosbon, Portage batsmen took the Duneland Conference crown along with Chesterton and finished the season with eleven wins compared to their seven losses.

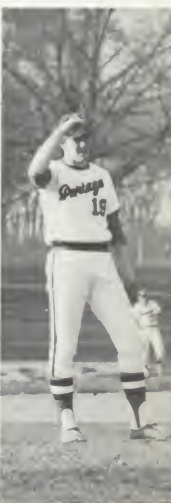

The Indians sank to the bottom losing the opener to LaPorte, but bounced back to win three of the next four games before losing two more.

Mid-season came and Portage bumped off six straight opponents including the four conference rivals. Portage split the next four games winning two and losing the others.

The final game of the regular season came and the Indians dropped their first conference game to the Chesterton Trojans finishing 7-1.

Sectionals rolled around the corner and the Big Red Machine pounded out ten runs against Washington Township as Ken Clements pitched a no-hit shut-out. Portage defeated East Gory winning sectionals.

Cindermen conclude season with second sectional victory

Winning their second Duneland Conference title in a row and placing second in the sectionals highest finish in Portage history, highlighted the 1972 track team season.

Ending with a record of 9-3-1 for the season, the cindermen succeeded in breaking two school records and tying one. With senior Dave Coons breaking his own record in the pole vault a number of times and finally stopping at 13'7 1/2" a new high, and junior Rick Sabo in the long jump with a record leap of 21'7 1/2", Steve Rickman also tied the record in the 100 yd. dash with a time of 10.1.

Racking up 85 points for the Duneland Conference title Portage held a wide margin over its nearest opponent, which was Chesterion with a total of 63 points, followed by M. C. Rogers 51, Hobart 37 and Valparaiso 14.

With eight people qualifying for the Regionals also an all time high for the school, Portage finished second in the sectional. Of the eight to make it to the regionals, four of them won their events. They were: Rick Sabo in the long jump, Dave Coons in the pole vault, Dave Swanson in the 880 yd. and Doug Pauley in the two mile run. Out of these only Coons is a two time winner.

Other qualifiers are George Lihvarchik also in the two mile, Jon Tetrick high jump, Dennis Fadely low hurdles and Larry McEwan in the mile run.

"You know sometimes I just want to stand up and shout, 'Hey, look at me! I'm not like anybody else.' Look at all these people all around me. Some of them seem to know where they are going, but some of them don't. Some of them wear their hair long, and some of them don't. Yet no matter how different I am from any of them, I still share common experiences—crummy school lunches, Jungle Hall, and crowded hallways. And all of these people and all of my teachers, whether I like them or not, form an impression on me and will become a part of my personality. But that doesn't mean I am like the guy who is sitting next to me. Sure we both went to the Cubs' basketball game, the Variety Show, the Spring Musical, and Regionals, but so what? We are still entirely different. It is just impossible to lump us all together into a stereotype. Life just doesn't work like that. Am I like you?"

INDIVIDUALS

TOP Mr. John Hevel, principal, has the highest position of authority. He makes the final decisions and makes sure everything is in running order around the school.

ABOVE Assistant principals Mr. Forrest Rhode and Mr. Floyd Johnson relieve some of the principal's work load by handling problems concerning discipline and school facilities.

RIGHT ADMINISTRATORS—Mr. Deon Snider, director of transportation; Miss Mary Ault, director of food service; and Dr. Eldon E. Teten, assistant superintendent for business affairs.

Dr. Kelly resigns as superintendent

After the resignation of superintendent Dr. Ralph Kelly in January, Dr. James Gland filled the position as the school system's Administrative Co-ordinator. The school board evaluated sixty-two candidates and then selected Mr. Bill Burton of Wisconsin as the new superintendent of the Portage School System. Mr. Burton, whose contract will become effective June 1, 1972 and will continue until May 31, 1975, was formerly the school superintendent of Wausau for three and one-half years.

LEFT Dr. Ralph Kelly was the superintendent for the Portage School System for the first semester of the school year, until his resignation after January 1

BELOW Mr. Maurice Tolbert performs the duties of attendance officer. He issues passes, admits tardy students, excuses absences and assigns detention time.

BOTTOM Dr. Ronald Phillips, assistant superintendent for personnel, screens the applicants for the faculty positions and special staffs before they are hired.

BELOW Mr. Charles Loy, custodian, regularly performed such tasks as cleaning the hallways, cafeteria and just in general maintaining the school environment.

RIGHT Maintaining the office records is just one of the jobs of secretaries D. Arvidson, M. Cantwell, L. Behrens. Seated is B. Langendorfer, D. Lock.

BOTTOM COOKS—Row 1: A. King, N. McMillan, E. Chavez, A. Thomoe, N. Louis. Row 2: R. Peek, B. Miller, E. Meyer, D. Rizzo, J. McWalters, N. Logsdon, L. Kroft.

School board seats changed in primaries

This year the cooks prepared approximately 1600 student lunches daily, which amounted to about 280,000 meals in one academic year. "I think the cooks are dedicated to their work and interested in the welfare of all high school students," commented Miss Mary Ellen Ault, director of food services. Apparently, some of the students didn't think so, since students staged a boycott on December 1. Students seemed to feel the strike was successful since only 50 students bought a lunch out of a possible 2,300. After the one day revolt, however, students resumed buying lunches.

Two school board member's terms expired and their successors are Mr. Bruce Creasy and Mr. Jerry Fitzgerald. Their terms will start in September.

LEFT The Guidance Counselors consisting of Mr. Thomas Louverman, Mrs. Marjorie Herren, Mr. Robert Mullen, and Mr. Kenneth Woodruff helped to program students' schedules.

BOTTOM School Board—Seated: Mrs. Martha Willis, Mr. Joseph Muller, Mrs. Leona Hale. Standing: Mr. Howard O'Guin, Mr. Robert Ricker.

Faculty falls to Santo's Cubs, 100-89

Faculty members were faced with extra work and responsibilities this year as they prepared reports on the school for the evaluating committee from North Central. The committee is designed to judge the curriculum and other facets of the school system.

Male teachers band together as 20 teachers went on a diet. The teachers pooled $5 each and the winner, Mr. James Douglas, received all $100.

The basketball game featuring Ron Santo's Cubs and PHS faculty was sponsored by the Publications Department and Pep Club. Although the Cubs defeated Mr. Forrest Rhode's team, 100-89, the game produced a capacity turn-away crowd.

Cheering their fellow faculty members on during the Cubs game are Miss Taylor, Miss Bain, Mrs. Taylor, Mrs. Kurtz, Mrs. Habenicht and Miss Bartus.

111 mid-term grads surpass previous totals

As members of the class of 1972, seniors will be remembered for their unique trait of breaking tradition. One-hundred and eleven seniors, nearly one-fourth of the class, were graduated after the first semester, making the largest number of mid-term grads in the school's history.

Seniors Jane Kelly, Homecoming Queen, and Ted Harper, Mr. Football, reigned over the annual Homecoming Dance, "Let the Sun Shine," attended by over 150 couples including Jane's court—Cheryl Arvidson, Debi Lawson, Nancy Bain, Julie Van Proyen and their escorts. A nearly successful homecoming was witnessed by the class of '72 as they took first place in Spirit Week but lost the float and car contest to Spanish and German Clubs, respectively.

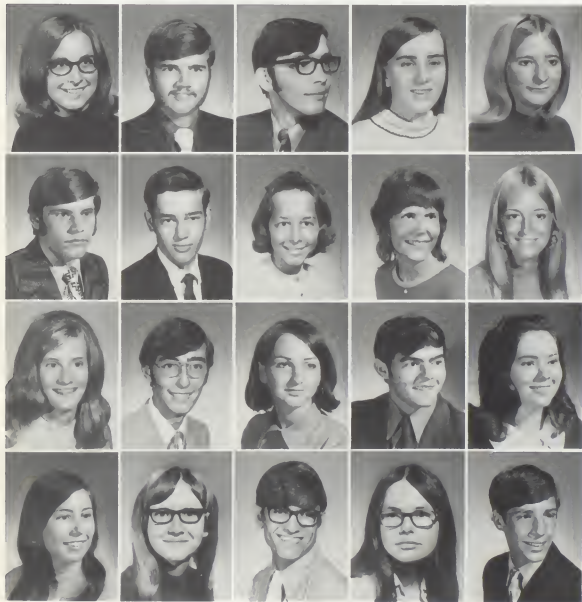

As holidays neared seniors sponsored the Christmas Dance, "Joy to the World," but class officers Kathi O'Guin, Shelley Muller and Belle Tribby experienced defeat as few members of the class cooperated.

Senior Sue Michael excelled in the field of home economics, as she was awarded the local Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow Scholarship. Later in the year Sue was informed of her being one of the 25 State finalists, two of which would receive a $1,500 or a $500 scholarship.

Portage had a taste of a big event as the 1972 Miss Indiana, Miss Pat Patterson, visited PHS to witness Ernie Banks' performance in a soccer match. Senior George Lihwachik had the opportunity to interview Miss Indiana and her mother for an exclusive feature for PHS's POW WOW.

Seniors' awareness of the coming of graduation made them forget that school was still in session and ventured into the courtyard to form a traditional '72 in the newfallen snow. But being members of a class known for its lack of agreeability, Debbie Dailey and Miguel Pous have troubles working with each other and both want to give the orders while pacifist Belle Tribby finds it easier to just listen and follow orders.

Juniors of 1973 'Do It with GUSTO'

Moving into their third year at PHS the class of '73 accepted the title of upperclassmen with "gusta."

One of the two junior homecoming floats this year was an individual float made by the majority of the junior class boys entitled "Do It With Gusta." The regular float made by the class as a whole was called "Lay Bricks."

Candy sales didn't do quite as well as expected, but $5,900.00 was made to help out for the prom.

"The Windmills of Your Mind" provided the theme for the prom. This was the first time in PHS history that the prom and after-prom were located at the same place. Instead of having the prom at the High School, it was moved to Serbian Hall in Hobart.

Representing and making decisions for the Junior Class are President Jim Hatala, Vice-president Desa Kakotavich, and sec.-treasurer Jay Robbins.

Enthusiastic sophomores attempt float

Sophomores entered PHS this September with less excitement and nervousness which they experienced as freshmen, but still with high hopes that the year would be a great success.

The year was not one of notable achievement; but not because of the sophomores. The homecoming float falling apart was one problem, but not because of lack of enthusiasm among the sophomores—it was the lack of money. The breaking in of the showcase containing the school rings was another incident that occurred this year. This act was not done by a sophomore, but nevertheless gave the Class of '74 a bad name. The absence of a class party was something new not just for the sophomores but also for the other three classes.

The year however was not a total flop. It produced sophomores that achieved in sports, music and academics.

Ordering school and class rings is a ritual in which most sophomores participated. The ring is a symbol of reaching the status and responsibilities of an upperclassman.

Approximately 460 sophomores spent an hour or more of their school life in study halls this year. Out of that group, 100 or so can be found in this scene of catching 40 winks. Sleep, however, is not the only activity open for students in study hall. There is always studying to do of course, but also paper wad throwing, talking, going to the library, leaving for another class to make-up work or if the student is tricky enough he could ditch the class altogether.

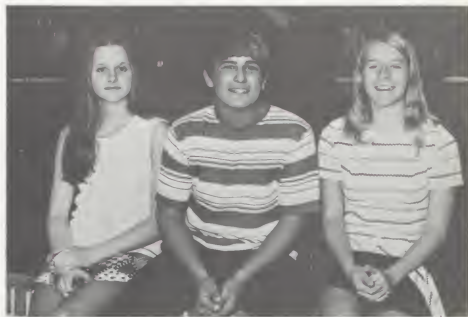

Freshman class largest in PHS history

Six hundred ninety-nine Freshmen survived to make themselves fit in the hustle and bustle of everyday life at PHS. The class of 1975 was the largest class ever to be enrolled in the school's history.

Although they were a large class, many things went undone. The traditional bonfire was canceled due to pollution control set up by a city ordinance. The Freshmen Class party was also canceled due to lack of student interest. The freshmen weren't the only ones without a class party as the other three classes followed in the same manner.

An attempt was made in construction of a float, but lack of funds put a damper on the plans.

Representing the largest class in PHS history are class officers Paul Ranzina, president; Lisa Stiegman, vice-president; and Gaye De Gaetano, sec.-treasurer.

"Today inflation is really awful. Frozen prices are sky-high, but sometimes the quality isn't what I expect. I think I can make buying decisions on my own, but deep inside I know I still depend on some adult advice because I know I don't have as much experience in choosing the products I use. Little by little, however, I have tested and experimented; and now I feel that the decision I make is my own . . . which expresses my feelings. Living in Portage, I've got a lot of places to shop: there's Marquette Mall, Valparaiso, our own Portage Mall, or even River Oaks. At these places, too, I can find jobs—what few jobs are still available. But I gotta remember that I am still in high school, and when I graduate I will have to compete with those people who have been competing for years. And I know it's going to take time to get the self-confidence I need to live in or even change that world. Are my choices the same as yours?"

"... And that leads us to the world. As of yet, I'm still trying to figure out what it is all about. I've got a few gripes about the establishment, but then I remember that they were handed this world just like someday we're gonna get it. Maybe we won't know any better what to do with it than they did. So we shouldn't blame them entirely for all the hate and the pollution and the wars. The people before them started it, and we will probably carry it on just the same way. But you can blame them for the resistance to change. No wonder teens can never change this society . . . before you can change it, you have to get into it; and to get into it, you have to conform to it. I'm pretty mixed up myself, and I'm going to have to straighten things out the hard way: all by myself. But maybe through my rambling someone else can just look at this and decide, while I have to go through a lot just to find the answer to the one question that has really been bugging me. Where do my friends, my whole generation and I fit, just Where do we fit in?.,
